
Title: The Embrace of Xavier

Author: Xavier

It was a very gloomy day. the
moon was barely
visible, the sun was hidden. And the sky was gray. I was in Yew tavern
when it happened. I had been drinking a
bit and my head wasn't on straight. I ordered another ale
to wash the sorrow of the night away. A
shiver rode down my
spine as a looked
up and saw a beautiful women. Her eyes, yet
cold, were gut
wrenching. She wore all leathers. A
leather bustier, which
revealed a very full bosom when she bent forward, a
leather skirt and
sandals. All the same
gloomy gray of the night. She asked me if i wanted to buy her a cider so i did. What could a few
less coins do? She was beautiful enough
and seemed nice. She sipped it slowly
and i noticed her lips
were very lushish
and red. She seemed to tease the
cider down her throat.
After her cider was
half full he stood up
and motioned
me to follow her. It was a very persuasive
motion, as she licked
her fingers

and motions towards
her. She lead me to a room. A very small
room with a
medium sized bed. a
candle half burnt out
flickered in the darkness. I was very weak and she
easily layed me upon
the bed and
un-buttoned my tunic.
Since i was so far gone
she forced my
shoulders opon the
not-so -soft bed.
She then got up on me and straddled me. She then procceded to kiss
my neck
and chest. Her lips
were cold as ice even though they tavern
had been well
heated. She took off
her bustier and place
her chest against
mine. she still
was very cold. i tried to speak but her eyes
were cold on mine and
stopped my words in their track. i could only be taken away by her and what
she offered.
After she had toatally
undressed me and her self she whispered in
my ear "You
are now one of us"
then she kissed my
neck and dove her
fangs into me. She stopped right before i
would have died. and she forced me to do
the same to
her.and i did. i was too drunk to stop..... and i did and i did become on
of
them.....]